

Letter from the Editors

Creativity is limitless. It is not bound by print and it can escape into the digital realm. As the third edition of PULSE was constructed, we embraced this idea of limitless creativity. This year the magazine expands beyond the current constraints, adding videos to the visual arts section. We are proud to showcase the hidden talents of Kansas City University students that might have slipped through the cracks unnoticed in a purely academic setting. We are beyond grateful for the hard work the editorial board has put into curating and crafting a collection of art and literature that echoes the voices and ideas of our community.

Whether you're a first time viewer or a returning reader, take a moment to experience the imagination embedded within each carefully crafted piece. Escape reality momentarily as you dive head first into this year's publication.

Until next year,
